

Lizzie Rose

Aird Steading
Ardfern, Lochgilphead
Argyll, PA31 8QS
01852 500 567
lizzierose@care4free.net
d.o.b. 15/09/72

BA(Hons) Fine Art, Newcastle University 1991-1995
Foundation Year, Leith School of Art, Edinburgh 1990-1991

Recent exhibitions and Galleries exhibited in include:

2006

Annual Art Exhibition, St Andrews Church, Presteigne, Wales
Aberfeldy Gallery, Easter and May exhibitions
RGI Kelly Gallery (September)

2005

Solo Exhibition at The Royal Glasgow Institute Kelly Gallery, Glasgow
The Green Gallery, Aberfoyle
The Aberfeldy Gallery, Aberfeldy
The Lime Gallery, Glasgow

2004

Green Gallery, Aberfoyle
Aberfeldy Gallery
The Archway Gallery, Lochgilphead

2003

Green Gallery, Aberfoyle
Aberfeldy Gallery
The Strathearn Gallery, Crieff

2002

Glasgow Art Fair, Art.tn
Highlands & Islands Touring Exhibition

2001

RGI Annual Exhibition, MacLellan Galleries

Residency, Crookedstane Rig, S. Lanarkshire Jan 2002
Aig an Oir Field trips and workshops and exhibitions Oct 2004 – March 2005

I live and work in Ardfern on the West coast of Argyll in Scotland. My home is the last house on the peninsula, looking out over the Corryvreckan and the islands of Jura and Scarba. It is a beautiful, powerful and energetic place to live. Everyday I walk out of the house and am, sometimes quite literally, blown away by the landscape I live in.

Trees people my landscape. They are often characters I return to, embodied with a familiarity that is perhaps comforting in this wild place. The Silver Birch tree inspires me with her elegance and grit: beauty on the edge.

Captured moments and pure enjoyment of my home environment, whether it is a map-like panorama, a rock pool, a tree or a piece of lichen or a leaf. The lady of the woods, the silver birch tree, in her strength and beauty and pioneering role, inspires me greatly. Overall, I revel in the sense of place and the journey that walking through the landscape presents. Beauty, found amongst trees, on hilltops, beside rivers, lochs and seas, and in my flowerbeds, is my inspiration.